WATCH YOUR TIRES

The local Ration Board has been advised by headquarters that tire production is still inadequate to meet any but the most urgent and necessary demands. Therefore it is more important than ever that motorists continue to recap worn tires, avoid excessive speeds, and thereby get the last mile of wear out of their tires.

Still Great Need For Russian Relief

The Andover Branch of the Russian War Relief has sent in an average of eight boxes of clothes a month since Jan. 1 to the Massachusetts Chapter. In Moscow itself, capital and show place of the U. S. S. R., people still are hungry and still inadequately clothed; and in the territories recaptured from the Nazis conditions are indescribable.

Anyone wishing to contribute warm clothing, shoes or blankets may leave them at the Andover Red Cross rooms. Family kits have been filled by the following in May and June: A. C. Dame, Horace Poynter, Theresa Richardson, Albert J. Moore, C. D. McDuffie, Philip Cole, Rodney Brown, W. K. Moorehead, Charles Thompson, Graham Baldwin, Mabel Reynolds, E. D. Walen, Carlton Kimball, Julius Rockwell, Fay Elliott, Roy Hardy, Miss Fannie Davis, Margaret Davis, Mary Bancroft of Andover and Mrs. Reynolds of North Andover.

There are still more kits to be filled. These kits are to be filled with ordinary household necessities. Those giving a kit give cheer and practical aid to a Russian family. If you would like to fill one of these kits, call Andover 1533.

Primary Candidates Increasing Activity

With less than two weeks remaining before the primary election on July 11, the various candidates are increasing their activities here in Andover. Of principal local concern is the Republican nomination for representative, in which contest J. Everett Collins, incumbent, is being opposed by a field of four from Methuen and one from North Andover. The Methuenites include Alyce L. Schlapp and Ralph A. Hill, who have been serving with Mr. Collins, Frank S. Giles, Jr., and former representative Carl A. Woelke. Charles H. Wentworth is the North Andover aspirant.

The contest for the Republican nomination for State Senator from this district is also attracting considerable attention. Former Senator Priest has entered the service, and a real battle has developed between Clifford Cusson, now a representative in the General Court and Na-

The holiday schedule will be observed on the 4th of July. There will be no window service or delivery of mail but there will be a dispatch in the morning and in the afternoon.

Carnival For Servicemen On Long Holiday Weekend

The week-end carnival under the sponsorship of the Servicemen's Fund Association gets under way Friday night at 7:00. Booths, games, rides and refreshments will be available for the pleasure of young and old.

Stop the Axis, Hoop-La, Card Dart, Chair Plane, Live Pony Rides, Chinese Football and many more games of skill will be feature attractions.

Sunday afternoon, starting at 12, the Servicemen's Fund is featuring the Coast Guard Kiltie Band of twenty pieces. The band has made a tremendous hit wherever it has shown; with the colorful kilts and bagpipes and drums they are sure to please. George Campbell, an Andover resident, is the famous bass drummer and he will thrill with his manipulation of the hammers.

Along with this feature there is to be a sports program of skill and fun. Sixteen races for girls and boys of various ages, with prizes of War Stamps to be awarded.

Monday and Tuesday are carnival days also. On Tuesday the Andover Town team will play the Coast Guard team from the Port of Boston, and they represent the class of the service teams. The game will start at 3 p. m.

Come on up to the playstead and support the Fund. Have a good time and enjoy your holidays at home.

Door prizes valued at over $600 are to be awarded every night except Sunday. Your 25c donation ticket entitles you to the possibility of winning one or more of these awards.

Don't forget the dates, Friday, June 30; Saturday, July 1; Sunday, July 2; Monday, July 3, and Tuesday, July 4. The afternoon performances at 1, the evening at 7.

An added attraction for the young people without charge is a whiz, fancy Punch and Judy show, in the afternoon at 4, and in the evening at 7:45.

Plan to spend the next five days at the playstead.

WEST CHURCH VACATION SCHOOL

Between thirty and forty boys and girls have already registered for the supervised vacation Day School which is being sponsored by the West church on each Wednesday beginning July 12. Mrs. Donald Savage has charge of the preschool children, Mrs. Dean Hudgins the primary group and Mrs. George Lowe the juniors. There will also be several assistants.

Cool... cool... youngsters

It doesn't matter whether you turn them loose this summer in the two hundred square acres of grandpa's farm or in the two hundred square yards of their own back yard. It's going to be tough on their clothes—so you might just as well start off with clothes like these, that can take whatever roughhouse they get. They're as easy on the eye as they are on the budget. Better bring the youngsters in for a summer's supply!

ATTEND BOYS' STATE SCHOOL

Three local boys are spending the week at the American Legion Boys' State school at Massachusetts State college. They are George Collins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Collins of 17 Avon street, sponsored by Andover Post 8, American Legion; Robert Hamilton, 7 Harding street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hamilton, sponsored by the Andover Service Club; and John P. Eastham, son of Attorney and Mrs. James S. Eastham of 64 Bartlet street, sponsored by Phillips Academy. Eastham will be a senior at the academy next year. Collins and Hamilton will be seniors at Punchard, where Hamilton is president of his class and Collins is captain-elect of the football team.

Accompanying the boys is Arthur L. Coleman, a past commander of Andover post and a past county commander, who is a counsellor at the school.

The school, which is operated as Boys' State, has a full program each day in the study of government, after which the boys have several hours for swimming, baseball, track, tennis, and other sports.

Past Department Commander Jeremiah J. Twomey of Andover was scheduled to officiate Sunday evening in conducting a mock naturalization class.

Religious Education

Juniors — Mrs. Marie C. Powell; Personal Religious Living — Dr. Clifford H. Osborne; The Art of Counselling — Dr. Adolph G. Ekdahl; Our Pupils and How They Learn, Teaching Primaries — Miss Carol Stifler; Adult Leaders' Worship — Dr. Erwin L. Shaver; Guiding Beginners — Miss Lucy V. Bickel; Guiding Primaries — Mrs. Jeanette Perkins Brown; Guiding Juniors — Miss Margaret Winchester; Guiding Intermediates — Miss M. Vesta Haines. These last four courses constitute the demonstration teaching of local boys and girls mentioned above. Dr. Ruth Richard Miller, 210 Powder House boulevard, Somerville, is executive secretary of the school which was established at Dartmouth College in 1915 and will probably return to the University of New Hampshire at Durham for its 30th session next summer.

Town Clerk George H. Winslow is attending the town clerks' convention at Swampscott.

Voting Information

The second in a series of articles by the League of Women Voters follows:

6) WHAT ARE THE NATIONAL PARTY COMMITTEES? The National Committees function only once every four years. They are composed, in the Republican Party, of one member for every state and territory, in the Democratic Party, of one man and one woman from every state and territory. The State members are generally chosen by the delegates to the National Conventions, and are very often Senators or ex-Senators. The President, of course, picks his own Chairman. These Committees meet a year before the national election to fix the date and place of the Nominating Conventions. They usually control the Conventions by their ability to make the program, appoint temporary chairmen, and pass on the credentials of delegates.

7) HOW ARE DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL NOMINATING CONVENTION CHOSEN IN MASSACHUSETTS? In the party primaries of last April delegates and alternates were elected directly for the Convention. Delegates may or may not be pledged to vote for a particular candidate, and do not have to vote as a solid State bloc. They are expected to use their initiative during the Convention.

(This series will conclude next week.)

Mrs. Donald R. Hill of Winchester announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Martha Hill, to Lt. Francis A. McClellan, AAF, son of Mrs. Percy W. McClellan of Andover. The ceremony took place in Trinity church, Danville, Kentucky, on June 13, 1944.

Lieutenant Robert A. Franz, U.S.N., of 187 North Main street, is the first local man known to have come back to this country after the Normandy invasion. He was aboard the cruiser Quincy on special duty and has known back to Washington, D. C., presumably to make a report on what he observed.

He joined his present medium bomber unit during April, 1942, at the Columbia Air Base, S. C. The nearest he has come to a mishap since leaving the United States took place in November, 1942, when the Marauder he was flying in, crash landed safely in South America. A short time later an airplane he was crewing returned from a bombing mission with a victory over an ME-109. He called the incident a "mighty big thrill." Mrs. Adie E. Trow, the sergeant's mother, resides at 50½ Whittier street, Andover.

The item in last week's Townsman reporting the death of Sgt. Donald King in Greenville, S. C., was in error, it has been learned. The source of the mistake has not yet been discovered, but an army mail clerk had returned the Servicemen's Fund Association Christmas package, with "deceased" written on it, and also had asked the Townsman to discontinue the paper because "Sergeant King is deceased." It has been learned that Sergeant King has received his honorable discharge and is living in Virginia, and the word "discharged" may have been misread by the clerk. It is also felt that possibly there was another Sgt. Donald King who did die. At any rate, he definitely wasn't Sgt. Donald King of Andover.

We Want Representation

Taxation without representation is one of the things that prompted Thomas Jefferson to take his plume in hand back around this time in 1776. The danger of having taxation without representation should certainly prompt every Andover citizen to take a pencil in hand seven days after Independence Day this year. Thomas Jefferson wrote a formidable document to gain his point; all we have to do to guard the heritage that the Declaration of Independence gave us is to mark an "X" on a ballot.

Our political parties are going to choose their candidates for state office on the eleventh of July, and in order that the ballot in November may offer as good a choice as possible, this election should have just as heavy an attendance at the polls as the November election. In a large sense you are being taxed without having a voice in governmental affairs, if you don't vote, but it's nobody's fault but your own. In a more restricted sense, we in Andover are running the risk of losing our representation in the State Legislature if we don't get out on that day to support Everett Collins for re-election.

Everett is the first Andover man in years to be in the General Court; he is also the only Andover man on the Republican ballot. There are some Methuen names on the ballot, some of them good and some not so good. Some of them should be nominated, because Methuen should have its representation just as well as Andover, but of the three nominations one anyway should go to Andover. We over here would certainly not want three representatives while the rest of the area had no delegates in the General Court, and very probably the residents of Methuen have no desire to have all three elected from their town.

If Andover had not put up a good candidate, and if Methuen, or North Andover, or Lawrence's Ward One had put up three good candidates, we would not bother to support the local candidate, for we would probably be better represented by three good men from Methuen than by two good men from our neighboring town and one excuse from Andover. But we do have a good candidate, an excellent candidate, a man who has done a great deal for Andover in many ways. He has had a splendid record in the Legislature; everybody that knew him before he went there could have predicted that he would have a good record. He has devoted much of his time to Andover's civic life, for most of which he has received nothing but the real pleasure of knowing you're helping a good cause.

Andover needs Everett Collins at the State House; the District needs him there. It's up to the voters of Andover to make sure that he goes back there, and July 11th is the day to do it.

DEATHS

Retired Librarian Passes Away

Miss Edna Adelaide Brown, 69, 41 Bartlet street, retired chief librarian of the Memorial Hall library, died Friday morning at the Lawrence General hospital. She was born in Providence, R. I., the daughter of the late Joseph Farnum Brown, a direct descendant of Chad Brown, who came to Boston from England in 1638. Her mother was Mrs. Adelaide Victoria (Ballou) Brown, a direct descendant of Roger Williams and of Mathurin Ballou. Miss Brown traced her Quaker ancestry back more than 300 years.

After receiving her education at the girls' high school in Providence and at the New York State Library school, Miss Brown served as librarian at the Providence public library and later on the staff of the Rosenberg library, Galveston, Texas. She came to Andover from Texas in April, 1906, and was chief librarian until she retired in July, 1939. As a result of her work in Andover, our library is one of the best in the commonwealth.

The author of more than a score of books, chiefly for young people, and many juvenile plays, she was a member of the American Library Association, the New York State Library School Association, the Massachusetts Library club and the November club. Her first book, "The Four Gordons," was published in 1911 and others, all on the approved list of the American Library association, include "Uncle David's Boys," "When Max Came," "Arnold's Little Brother," "Archer and the 'Prophet'," "The Spanish Chest," "At the Butterfly House," "Rainbow Island," "That Affair at St. Peter's," "Journey's End," "The Silver Bear," "The Chinese Kitten," "Whistling Rock," "Robin Hollow," "Three Gates" and "Polly's Shop."

Her only immediate survivor is a sister, Miss Ethel Brown of Andover.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon with services in Christ church and burial was in Christ church cemetery.

Attorney Albert H. Chamberlain, well-known local businessman, died at his home on 43 Morton street Wednesday morning following a long illness. He had been ill since December, when he last attended a bank directors' meeting and was stricken upon his arrival home. Mr. Chamberlain had been treasurer of the Arlington Mills since 1913 and was widely known in textile circles throughout the country.

A graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law school, he was admitted to practice before the Massachusetts State Bar in 1899 and became associated with Attorney William A. Munroe in Boston before opening his own law office. In 1913 he was appointed treasurer of the Arlington Mills and was also head of the legal department for William Whitman and Co.

He was a director of the Bay State Merchants National Bank and a trustee of the Essex Savings Bank. He was a director of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce for several years. In his social affiliation he was a member of the Faculty club of Cambridge and the Megunticook Country club of Camden, Me.; the Mizpah lodge of the Masonic order, and the Dunster lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, both in Cambridge. He was also affiliated with the Bar Association of Boston and the American Bar association.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Technician 3/c, Albert H. Chamberlain, Jr., now overseas, and a daughter, Mrs. Harry L. MacCready, Jr., of Pensacola, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Alfred Fuller of Belmont; also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2:30 with private services at the late home with Rev. John Moses of Christ church officiating. Burial will be in West Parish cemetery.

Miss Anna Maria McNally, 82, High street, died Tuesday morning at the Cole Rest home after an illness of several months.

Survivors include four brothers, John, James R., and Joseph W. McNally, of Andover, and Edward McNally of New York.

The funeral was held from the home of her niece, Miss Catherine McNally, 11 Summer street. A solemn high mass of requiem was sung Thursday morning in St. Augustine's church, where Miss McNally was a devout attendant, and burial was in St. Augustine's cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all who by kindly deeds and words, and cards, calls or flowers expressed sympathy to me in the recent loss of my brother.
Gertrude L. Brundrett

One can never think of the Memorial Hall Library, without seeing in memory the quiet, gracious lady, who for thirty-three years gave of her unusual talents that this library might be the finest in the state.

She will always be a part of the library, both in the books she selected with the finest consideration for the needs and reading tastes of the community, and in the hearts of the library personnel who will never forget that she made the library theirs.

Those of us who were fortunate to have had a share of her friendship as well as the pleasure of working under her administration realize the privilege that was ours in knowing her.

No smallest contribution of effort was too trivial to be acknowledged if only by a smile or nod of appreciation.

She planned great things and carried them through quietly and suc-

Perhaps because she was never too strong physically, she had an unfailing consideration for others, and her sympathy inspired a quality

In a matter of ideals, there was

"HERE'S MY FUTURE GAS RANGE"

Yes, these War Bonds are going to buy that gleaming new gas range I've wanted for ever so long. But not until Uncle Sam no longer needs the money they represent. And there will be more Bonds, too, to pay for a silent gas refrigerator and that automatic gas water heater I had planned to own, even before Pearl Harbor. You see, I'm planning and saving today, for a brighter, happier tomorrow."

The Fifth War Loan

The sale of E Bonds in Andover is proceeding behind its quota. It is behind its record to comparable date in the Third and Fourth War Loans. It is behind the town's reputation.

It is apparent that D Day didn't help much with civilian purchases. On the other hand, 87 per cent of the enlisted personnel have authorized pay deduction for E Bond purchases to help finance the war they are fighting.

Will you lend Uncle Sam some of YOUR money at better than two per cent?
